AAACN Ambulatory Nursing Certification Review Course 2016
March 19, 2016

COURSE DESCRIPTION: This course provides an overview of the potential content that may be tested on the ambulatory care nursing certification exam. It is a valuable opportunity to reinforce your knowledge of ambulatory care, identify your weak areas, and learn new information. Interact with nationally recognized faculty and colleagues to discuss information related to ambulatory care practice and the certification exam. Course content is based on the test content outline, for the ambulatory care nursing certification exam. All topics will be offered in an interactive, case problem solving style to enhance critical thinking.

OBJECTIVES: At completion of this course the participant will be able to:

* Identify methods to prepare for the ambulatory care nursing certification exam including test taking techniques.

* Summarize nursing process activities related to the ambulatory care nursing clinical role including clinical skills, triage assessment, care management and patient advocacy.

* Apply communication techniques and principles utilized in the ambulatory care environment, including interpersonal skills, service excellence and cultural competency

* Describe key professional issues and trends, including regulatory issues and standards of care, that impact ambulatory care nursing practice

* Outline ambulatory care systems and processes related to medication management, quality management, operations, and documentation

* Examine the key components of education in the ambulatory care environment, including learning principles and techniques, health promotion and disease prevention, and self-care management

* Discuss professional issues, including ethical, legal, professional development, and leadership/management.
